Intenso

Intenso prioritizes the needs and wants of its customers and places the highest value on the quality of its products – from the development all the way to introduction to the trade. A constant further development of the product is therefore relevant. Before the new introduction, intense research about the product design as well as the performance characteristics of a product are indispensable. Intenso experts from the sector of purchasing and quality management check the products on site to fulfil the self-imposed high quality demands. In the course of the incoming goods inspection, all products are constantly subjected to quality tests. New product deliveries are precisely examined in the Intenso test laboratory and only released for trade after impeccable results.
